Summary

The Criminal Law Advisory Committee proposes three revisions to the abstract of judgment forms (CR-290, CR-290.1, and CR-292) that are designed to reduce confusion among inmates, reflect recent amendments to a local custody credit statute, and enhance the sentencing information contained in the forms.

Discussion

The Criminal Law Advisory Committee proposes the following three revisions to the abstract of judgment forms:

- Strike Priors. The proposal would replace the phrase "two strikes" with "strike prior" in item 4 of CR-290 and CR-290.1. The phrase "two strikes" is intended to indicate that the defendant has been sentenced as having a prior strike conviction. Many inmates, however, interpret the phrase "two strikes" to mean that the court has sentenced them as having two prior strike convictions. As a result, inmates frequently request that courts clarify their sentences. To reduce confusion among inmates and relieve courts from reviewing and responding to inmate inquiries, the proposal would replace the phrase "two strikes" with "strike prior" in item 4 on CR-290 and CR-290.1.
- Custody Credits. Recent legislation (SB 76; Stats. 2010, ch. 426, p. 95) amended Penal Code section 2933(e) to modify local custody credits for certain qualified defendants sentenced to state prison. The current abstract of judgment forms, however, only include local custody credits under Penal Code section 4019 and 2933.1. To ensure that the forms include all relevant local custody credit statutes, the proposal would add a check box for Penal Code section 2933 to the local custody credit items in CR-290 (item 15), CR-290.1 (item 13), and CR-292 (item15).

• Registration Requirements. Defendants are often required to register as part of a criminal sentence. For example, Penal Code section 290 requires defendants convicted of certain sex offenses to register as sex offenders. The current abstract of judgment forms, however, do not include registration requirements. To enhance the sentencing information contained in the forms, the committee proposes adding item 11 to each form to provide a space for courts to note any registration requirements.
