

From: Judge Michael Karl Kellogg
To: Invitations
Subject: It amazes me, that those who decide to appoint folks to committees, must in some respect, acknowledge their individual credentials, if not, such appointments would be superfluous, then after hard work and analysis make recommendations, that are critici...
Date: Wednesday, July 11, 2012 12:23:00 PM

It amazes me, that those who decide to appoint folks to committees, must in some respect, acknowledge their individual credentials, if not, such appointments would be superfluous, then after hard work and analysis make recommendations, that are criticized, or out right ignored by the person requesting the study. It makes no sense to me, if you are not going to consider the recommendations, they why ask for them in the first place. Thank you for the time and the opportunity to briefly reply, to completely state my opinion it would take pages.Mike