I have been a Los Angeles Superior Court Commissioner for over 20 years. I have seen many changes in the courts, most for the better, but for the past several years, things have been on the rapid decline. We were and still are the largest and best justice system in the world; however, the scales of justice are becoming difficult, if not impossible, to hold.

We now have some very responsible, positive, and effective recommendations from the SEC. I hope and strongly urge the Judicial Council to immediately implement the recommendations.

Thank you for the opportunity to respond.
