Subject: Public Comment on SEC Report

I have reviewed the SEC's report and the LASC's comments on that report and support the positions articulated in both documents. I am concerned that delay to adopting and implementing the recommendations will further risk the reputation of the judicial branch with the public and the other two branches of government. This prospect will unnecessarily risk the independence of the judicial branch. In this time of stress to our institutions, it is essential that we act promptly and effectively and be seen to have done so.

Respectfully,
Robert E. Willett, Judge
