Discussion	Under Code of Civil Procedure section 2026.010, which provides for the issuance of commissions to take depositions outside California, the process for obtaining commissions is uncomplicated and requires no judicial involvement in many or most instances. The statute provides: On request, the clerk of the court shall issue a commission authorizing the deposition in another state or place. The commission shall request that process issue in the place where the examination is to be held, requiring attendance and enforcing the obligations of the deponents to produce documents and answer questions. The commission shall be issued by the clerk to any party in any action pending in its venue without a noticed motion or court order. The commission may contain terms that are required by the foreign jurisdiction to initiate the process. If a court order is required by the foreign jurisdiction, an order for a commission may be obtained by ex parte application. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2026.010(f).) The availability of standardized commission forms will help litigants and courts process commission requests expeditiously, in keeping with the ministerial nature of the commission process under the Code of Civil Procedure.

The Commission to Take Deposition Outside California (form DISC-030) can be used for clerk-issued or court-ordered commissions under Code of Civil Procedure section 2026.010(f), with litigants making their selection based on the requirements of the particular out-of-state jurisdiction where the deposition is to be taken.

To eliminate potential confusion on the part of out-of-state court clerks, who are likely unfamiliar with California law and might perceive clerk-issued commissions as less compelling than court-ordered commissions, the form explains that clerk-issued commissions are authorized by California law. The form recites the necessary statutory language (i.e., it “request[s] that process issue in the place where the examination is to be held, requiring attendance and enforcing the obligations of the deponents to produce documents and answer questions”). Because section 2026.010(f) provides that “[t]he commission may contain terms that are required by the foreign jurisdiction to initiate the process,” the form also provides for the attachment of additional pages to supplement the form as needed.
