California: Community Service

Become an AARP Volunteer

Making a Difference

With state offices in Sacramento and Pasadena, AARP is more active than ever throughout California. Every day we provide new opportunities for our members—to speak on issues that concern them, to make their own choices, to reach their goals and dreams, and to make the most of life after 50. That's where you come in.

People like you have always been AARP's greatest resource. Today, we need your know-how and enthusiasm more than ever to help us achieve the goals AARP members care about most—health and financial security, in living, safer and stronger communities, and many more.

You can help by volunteering your time and talent to make a difference across California and across the country.

State Committees

AARP volunteers who serve on state operations and legislative teams take a lead role in their region and help to share AARP priorities, information, and goals. They work closely with state office staff and other volunteers who are willing to make legislative and media contacts in support of AARP issues.

Community Volunteers

AARP California community volunteers enrich the lives of members and their families in communities across the state. Volunteers receive training and support to implement the following activities in their communities:

- Organizing community education forums on AARP priority issues.
- Working with community organizations to provide members with local volunteer opportunities.
- Supporting grassroots education initiatives.
- Initiating personal enrichment and outreach events for members and their families.

State Office Volunteers

State office volunteers assist the California staff in Pasadena and Sacramento with a variety of projects and activities, including mailings, meetings, special events, and general office support.

We don't want to Cristina to address her use of volunteers.

You don't have to use these materials as handouts.

Hi Harry,

Since I don't work directly with ACCESS volunteers, I can't address that issue.

Do you want Cristina to do that?

I can do the volunteers we have in Probate who serve in various roles: attorneys as volunteer mediators, AARP people in the Guardianship Monitoring Program, professional conservators who teach the lay conservators.

Mary

Hi.

What do you think of using these documents as handout for your Volunteer panel:
