Court Sends State Bar Number Verification (PF903)

Exchange Description

A trial court uses this California judicial branch XML schema-based data exchange to send attorney records to the California State Bar Association or an electronic filing service provider (EFSP).

A trial court may use this exchange to verify an attorney's status with the California State Bar and to retrieve attorney records that match existing state bar numbers provided. If the attorney exists, basic attorney status information, such as state bar number, status, and status change date, are returned by the integration partner.

The request message sent by the trial court to the integration partner contains the attorney verification information (e.g., state bar number).

The response message sent by the integration partner to the trial court indicates whether an attorney exists matching the search criteria. If the attorney does exist, attorney information is returned (e.g., attorney state bar number, status, and status change date.)

The business response refers to any subsequent exchanges that may occur as a direct result of this exchange, as follows:

Error Handling

If the attorney information requested does not exist in the California State Bar's database, or if the integration partner does not successfully receive and process the incoming message, the trial court will receive an error message with an error code and error reason.
