- B. Acceptance of Securities and Cash – Custodian will receive Securities and Cash that are acceptable to the Custodian for the Account.
- C. Designation of Account – The Accounts and each Account, as the case may be, shall be in the name of Client or in the name Client may reasonably designate.
- D. Segregation of Accounts
 - a. Securities and Cash held in the Accounts shall be segregated from Custodian’s individual assets, and records maintained by Custodian shall indicate that such Securities and Cash are not the individual property of Custodian.
 - b. Custodied Securities may be commingled with other Securities held by Custodian. However, Custodian shall maintain sufficient records at all times to identify all custodied Securities held for Client.
 - c. Custodian may deposit or procure the deposit of Securities with any Clearance Systems as required by law, regulation or market practice. Custodian will hold Securities with a Clearance System only in an account which exclusively holds assets held by Custodian for its clients.
 - d. Custodian will hold Securities with a Subcustodian only in an account which is segregated from the Subcustodian’s assets. Custodian will direct each Subcustodian to identify on its books that Securities are held for the account of Custodian as custodian for its clients. Records maintained by Custodian shall indicate that such Securities are held by a Subcustodian and shall identify the Subcustodian.

3. PERFORMANCE BY CUSTODIAN

Client acknowledges that the procedures described in this Section 3 are of an administrative nature and shall not be interpreted to constitute an undertaking by Custodian to make loans or Securities available to Client.

A. Custodial Duties Requiring Instructions – Custodian shall carry out the following actions only upon receipt of and in accordance with specific Instructions.

a. Securities Settlement

- 1. Custodian will attend to the settlement of Securities transactions. To the extent the Custodian settles Securities transactions on a contractual settlement date basis and the Securities and/or Cash are not subsequently received by Custodian, Custodian may reverse the contractual settlement date entries relating to such settlement.
- 2. Settlements of each depository transaction will be effected through trading and processing practices customary in the jurisdiction or market where the transaction occurs. Client acknowledges that this may, in certain circumstances, require the delivery of Cash or Securities without the concurrent receipt of Securities or Cash. In the case of the failure of a counterparty (or other appropriate party) to deliver the expected Cash or Securities, Custodian will contact the counterparty to seek settlement of the transaction, but Custodian shall have no responsibility for non-receipt or non-payment (or late receipt or late payment) of Cash or for non-receipt or non-delivery (or late receipt or late delivery) of Securities by the counterparty.
- 3. Custodian shall not be required to comply with any Instructions to settle the purchase of any Securities for an Account unless there is sufficient immediately available Cash for such purchase in the applicable currency in the Account. Free riding (buying and selling the same security and using the sale proceeds to pay for the transaction without otherwise having funds to pay for the trade) is not permitted. Client agrees that it will not use an Account to facilitate the purchase of Securities without sufficient immediately available Cash in the Account or otherwise issue any Instructions that would violate the free-riding prohibition of Federal Reserve Board's Regulation T or any other applicable law.

b. Corporate Actions and Shareholders Voting

- 1. Custodian shall advise Client or its designee of any corporate action notices and announcements concerning Securities held on Client's behalf in an Account that require discretionary action, if Custodian, in the course of acting in the capacity of Custodian, has received such notices and announcements in time to notify Client in a timely manner. Custodian shall follow Instructions provided by Client or its designee with regard to voting such corporate actions. If the Client or its designee fails to provide Custodian with timely Instructions with respect to a corporate action, Custodian will not take any action in relation to that corporate action.
- 2. Custodian's only obligation in regard to any matter where Client may exercise shareholder voting rights will be to provide to Client or its designee any shareholder proxies, notices, reports or other communications actually received by Custodian.

Judicial Council of California Master Agreement
Amendment 9 to Contract Number MA-200307 with Bank of America, N.A.

c. Credits and Debits to Accounts

1. Under no circumstances will Custodian be required to expend, advance, risk or disburse its own funds in the administration of an Account. Custodian is not obliged to credit or debit an Account before receipt of a corresponding final payment in cleared funds.
2. If Custodian credits or debits an Account prior to receipt of a corresponding final payment in cleared funds, Custodian may at any time reverse all or part of such credit or debit, and make an appropriate entry to the Account, and if it reasonably so decides, require repayment of any amount corresponding to any debit. Client will deposit the amount of any such debit together with all associated overdraft charges, into the Account by 5:00 PM (Central Time) on the day of receipt of notice of such debit from Custodian. If Client does not meet the 5:00 PM (Central Time) deadline, Client shall forward the amount due plus any additional overdraft charges the following Business Day. In the event that, for any reason whatsoever, any of the Account(s) becomes overdrawn, the Customer shall pay the amount by which such Account has become overdrawn upon demand of the Custodian together with interest on the overdrawn amount calculated at such rate as the Custodian may specify from time to time.
3. If Custodian receives Instructions that would result in the delivery of Securities or payment of Cash exceeding credits to the Account for the relevant Securities or for Cash, as applicable, Custodian may reject the Instructions.

d. Short Term Investment Fund

1. Client may, from time to time, provide Instructions for Custodian to use any available cash awaiting investment or distribution in the Account to purchase any short-term investment funds that Custodian from time to time makes available to clients. Such Instructions shall be provided via delivery to Custodian of a signed and completed Short Term Investment Directive in the form of Exhibit D. All funds invested by Custodian at the direction of Client in such short-term investments shall be deemed to be part of the Account and subject to all the terms and conditions of this Agreement. If any Cash is received for an Account after the cut-off time for the designated short-term investment vehicle, Custodian shall hold such Cash uninvested until the next Business Day.
2. In the absence of Instructions designating a short-term investment for Cash, Cash in an Account shall remain uninvested.
3. Custodian shall have no obligation to pay interest on Cash in respect of any period during which it remains uninvested.

B. Non-discretionary Custodial Duties – Absent contrary Instructions, Custodian will carry out the following without further Instructions:

- a. Sign any affidavits, certificates of ownership and other certificates and documents relating to Securities which may be required to obtain any Securities or Cash;
- b. Receive, and credit an Account, as appropriate, with all income, payments and distributions in respect of Securities, fund transfer receipts, and any capital arising out of or in connection with Securities (including all Securities received by Custodian as a result of a stock dividend, bonus issue, share sub-division or reorganization, capitalization of reserves or otherwise) and take any action deemed by Custodian to be necessary and proper in connection therewith;
 1. Custodian will settle certain income, payments and distributions in respect of Securities, fund transfer receipts, and any capital arising out of or in connection with Securities (including all Securities received by Custodian as a result of a stock dividend, bonus issue, share sub-division or reorganization, capitalization of reserves or otherwise) on a contractual payment date basis and if the Securities and or Cash are not subsequently received by Custodian, Custodian may reverse the contractual payment date entries relating to such settlement.
 2. Custodian shall be under no obligation to take action to collect any amount payable on Securities in default or if payment is refused after due demand and presentment.
- c. When, as part of a distribution, fractional shares of Securities are received, where possible sell such fractional shares and pay the proceeds to the applicable Account;

Judicial Council of California Master Agreement
Amendment 9 to Contract Number MA-200307 with Bank of America, N.A.

- d. Reregister Certificated Securities, exchange interim or temporary receipts for definitive certificates, and exchange old or over stamped certificates for new certificates where the exchange is purely ministerial and no exercise of discretion is required;
- e. Make any payment by debiting the applicable Account as required to effect any Instructions.

4. INSTRUCTIONS

Custodian will rely and act upon Instructions of any Authorized Person until Custodian has received and acknowledged notice of any change from Client. Custodian is authorized to rely upon any Instructions received, in particular:

- A. Client may appoint one or more Investment Managers and shall provide documentation reasonably satisfactory to Custodian of such Investment Manager's authority to act on behalf of Client. Any person acting on behalf of an Investment Manager shall not be an Authorized Person unless identified as such in a then-current Certificate of Authorized Persons, as provided in Section 1. Client agrees that:
 - a. each Investment Manager is authorized to act on Client's behalf with respect to the Sub-Account managed by such Investment Manager, including the authority to receive and give Instructions, and
 - b. any right of Custodian arising in connection with this Agreement is enforceable against all of Client's assets, notwithstanding that Investment Manager may exercise discretion over less than all of the assets of Client.

Client acknowledges, understands and agrees that:

- a. any communication, notice, report, statement, advice or information given to an Investment Manager by Custodian or received from an Investment Manager by Custodian in respect of the Sub-Account managed by such Investment Manager shall be deemed to have been given to, or received from, Client as the case may be;
 - b. any decision, instruction or action of, or authorization by, an Investment Manager in respect of the Sub-Account managed by such Investment Manager shall be deemed to constitute the decision, instruction, action or authorization of Client;
 - c. Custodian is in no way responsible for any loss to Client occasioned by the actions of an Investment Manager; and
 - d. Client gives each Investment Manager authority to exercise Client's rights over the Sub-Account managed by such Investment Manager and does so at Client's own risk.
- B. Notwithstanding any other provision hereof, Custodian is authorized to accept and act upon any investment direction from Client delivered electronically in accordance with standard practices in the financial services industry, including investment or fund transfer Instructions delivered via the SWIFT, FTP, Depository Trust Company Identification systems, or Custodian's online services.
 - C. Custodian is not responsible and shall incur no liability arising from errors or omissions made by Client or resulting from fraud or the duplication of any Instructions by Client, and Custodian may act on any Instructions by reference to an Account number only, even if an Account name is provided.
 - D. Custodian may act on any Instructions if it reasonably believes such Instructions contain sufficient information. Sample investment and disbursement instruction forms are attached as Exhibits E and F. Custodian will verify any Instruction (other than Instructions delivered electronically in accordance with Section 4(A) and 4(B)) received regarding disbursement or free delivery of any Securities by a call to an Authorized Person other than the Authorized Person signing the Instruction. Client agrees that Custodian may delay the initiation of any fund transfer until these security measures it deems to be necessary and appropriate have been completed and shall incur no liability on account of such delay.
 - E. The Custodian shall not be obliged to comply with any Instructions received where it reasonably believes that carrying out such Instructions would be contrary to applicable law, regulation or market practice (and the Custodian shall not be under any duty to investigate whether any Instruction complies with any applicable law, regulation or market practice) or where it is not provided with satisfactory verification, confirmation or clarification of Instructions where the Custodian has requested such verification, confirmation or clarification from the Customer. Custodian will promptly notify Client of its decision and will not be liable for failure to act on such Instructions.

Amendment 9 to Contract Number MA-200307 with Bank of America, N.A.

- F. Client expressly acknowledges that the use of manual forms of communication entails risks involving errors, security and privacy breaches and fraudulent activities.
- G. Custodian is obligated to act on Instructions only if received in the prescribed form and at the requisite times and only on Business Days. Where Custodian receives incomplete Instructions, or receives Instructions after a cut-off time, Custodian will use reasonable efforts to comply as soon as practicable on the next relevant Business Day, but shall incur no liability if, having exercised reasonable efforts to act on the Instructions, it is not able to do so.

5. TAX STATUS/WITHHOLDING TAXES

- A. Tax Forms – The Account shall not be opened nor funds in the Account invested unless Client provides to Custodian a correct, complete and applicable Internal Revenue Service Form W-9 or W-8. In the case of a Person that is a "United States person" within the meaning of Section 7701(a) (30) of the Code, an Internal Revenue Service Form W-9 (or applicable successor form) that is not more than 30 days old is required. In the case of a Person that is not a "United States person" within the meaning of Section 7701(a)(30) of the Code, the applicable Internal Revenue Service Form W-8ECI, W-8IMY, W-8EXP, W-8BEN, W-8BEN-E (or applicable successor form), with all required attachments (if applicable), is required. Such Internal Revenue Service form shall be delivered when: (i) the Account is opened, (ii) before December 31 of each third succeeding calendar year, (iii) promptly upon reasonable demand by Custodian, and (iv) promptly upon learning that any such tax form previously provided by Client has become expired, obsolete or incorrect. Tax withholding may occur absent proper tax documentation. Upon reasonable demand by Custodian, Client shall promptly provide any other form or document that may be required or reasonably requested in writing in order to allow Custodian to make a payment without any deduction or withholding for or on account of any Tax or with such deduction or withholding at a reduced rate, with any such form or document to be accurate and completed in a manner reasonably satisfactory to Custodian.
- B. Payment – If any Taxes become payable with respect to any payment to be made to Client, such Taxes will be payable by Client and Custodian may withhold the Taxes from such payment. Custodian may withhold any Cash held or received with respect to the Account and apply such Cash in satisfaction of such Taxes. The Custodian will not pay any additional amounts in respect of such withholding. If any Taxes, including for the avoidance of doubt withholding Taxes become payable, with respect to any prior payment made to Client by Custodian, Custodian may withhold any Cash in satisfaction of such prior Taxes. Client shall remain liable for and shall indemnify Custodian for any deficiency.

Short Term Investment Fund Directive and Disclosure Statement

Bank of America, N.A. offers short-term investment vehicles to our custody clients for purposes of short-term cash investment. Clients can choose a short-term investment solution for use as the daily “cash sweep” vehicle for all temporary funds not being employed for other investment purposes.

Money Market Funds:

U.S Corporate and Institutional Investor Use Only

For more complete information about a money market fund listed in this form, including expenses, investment objectives, and past performance, please refer to the prospectus. You should read and review this information carefully before investing. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Investments in money market mutual funds are neither insured nor guaranteed by Bank of America, N.A. and its affiliates, or by any Government Agency. There can be no assurance that the funds can maintain a stable net asset value of $1.00 per share.

The parties to the agreement understand and agree that the Custodian may receive certain revenue associated with money market fund investments. We hereby acknowledge receipt of the money market mutual fund prospectus for the below referenced fund(s) and authorize Bank of America, N.A. to use the money market mutual fund designated below as the STIF vehicle for all cash funds under the above referenced accounts. We understand Bank of America, N.A. receives revenue share payments directly from the fund company for services provided to these funds and the maximum amount is disclosed for each fund. These payments represent a reallocation to the Custodian of a portion of the compensation payable to the fund company in connection with a money market fund investment. Revenue sharing payments constitute a form of fee sharing between the fund company and the Custodian and do not, as a general rule, result in any additional charge or expense in connection with a money market fund investment, are not paid under a 12b-1 plan and do not impact the investment performance of the fund. These fees will be reflected in the overall expense ratio of the fund. The amount of any revenue share, if any, payable to the Custodian with respect to your account’s investments is available upon request. In the event that a money market fund has been designated as the investment, the parties hereto acknowledge delivery of the prospectus for such fund. The Parties hereto acknowledge that with respect to any such “cash sweep vehicle”, if applicable, money market funds and other non-deposit investments are not deposits within the meaning of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1813(l)), are not insured or guaranteed by the U.S. Government, the FDIC or any other government agency, are not insured, endorsed or guaranteed by Bank of America, are not obligations of Bank of America, and involve investment risk, including possible loss of principal. If a receiver were appointed for Bank of America, the client would have an ownership interest in the shares of the Mutual Fund that Bank of America purchased on behalf of the client.
