Executive Summary and Origin

The Family and Juvenile Law Advisory Committee proposes amending a rule of court, revising three forms, and approving three new optional forms to implement recent legislative changes concerning the sealing of juvenile records. The legislative changes allow access to sealed records for two additional purposes and expand sealing of records for youth diverted from the juvenile courts.

Background

In 2014, the Legislature enacted Welfare and Institutions Code section 786¹ to require the sealing and dismissal of specified juvenile petitions when a child has satisfactorily completed probation. In that legislation and numerous subsequent bills, the Legislature has sought to provide access to those records for a variety of purposes. In 2020, Senate Bill 1126 (Jones; Stats. 2020, ch. 338) enacted an additional provision allowing access to the records by the probation department, prosecuting attorney, attorney for the child, or the court when a new petition has been filed and the issue of competency has been raised. In addition, Assembly Bill 2321 (Jones-Sawyer; Stats. 2020, ch. 329) was enacted to allow access to records sealed under section 786 or section 781 (sealing at the request of the subject of the records) by the court or a prosecutor in order to certify victim helpfulness for specified immigration relief purposes. These expansions of access need to be reflected on existing information forms that explain who can access sealed juvenile court records.

In 2017, the Legislature enacted legislation² to provide a mechanism to seal the records for youth who were referred by the prosecutor or the probation department to a pre-petition informal program pursuant to section 654. That legislation provided for the sealing of records relating to the arrest and diversion program for successful completion of the program by the probation department and any public or private agency that provided diversion or supervision services. The Judicial Council adopted California Rules of Court, rule 5.850 and two optional forms (JV-597 and JV-598) to assist with the implementation of that legislation, in part because the legislation allows a participant whose completion is found not satisfactory to petition the court for a review of that determination. In 2020, the Legislature enacted Assembly Bill 2425 (Stone; Stats. 2020, ch. 330) to amend section 786.5 to provide that records be sealed by the arresting law enforcement agency as well and requiring that the probation department receive confirmation of the sealing and communicate that to the participant. In addition, that legislation provides that law enforcement agencies that divert youth in lieu of arrest must also seal records and directs the Judicial Council to develop forms to assist with this responsibility.

The Proposal

The committee proposes modifying the two information forms on sealing of records to incorporate the new access provisions. The committee proposes revising the current rule and notification form and approving a new optional acknowledgment of sealing of records to implement the expansion of sealing of records for pre-petition diversion. Finally, the committee, in consultation with the California Law Enforcement Association of Records Supervisors, Inc. (CLEARs), proposes approving two forms to be used by law enforcement to implement sealing in pre-arrest diversion cases.

New forms to implement law enforcement duties to seal pre-arrest diversion records

Newly enacted section 827.95 requires law enforcement agencies to seal the records of youth: (1) who have been diverted prior to arrest or referral to probation and who have satisfactorily completed their diversion program; or (2) who have been counseled and released and have not been referred in the subsequent 60 days; or (3) who are not subject to the jurisdiction of the juvenile court. The statute requires the Judicial Council, in consultation with CLEARs, to develop forms to implement these requirements. The proposal includes two optional forms, Law Enforcement Notice on Sealing of Records (form JV-581) and Petition to Seal Juvenile Police Records (form JV-582), to use to notify youth and relevant agencies about the sealing, as well as a petition form to request reconsideration of a denial of sealing by the law enforcement agency. These forms would be used by law enforcement agencies and would not be filed with the court.

Modifications to information forms to reflect new access provisions

The committee proposes amending How to Ask the Court to Seal Your Records (form JV-595-INFO) to add a bullet point to the section entitled “Who can see your sealed records?” to explain that records may be accessed to allow a court or prosecutor to certify victim helpfulness for immigration relief purposes. The committee also proposes deleting a redundant bullet point on access by the person whose records have been sealed. The committee would also modify the analogous section on Sealing of Records for Satisfactory Completion of Probation (form JV-596-INFO) to include the victim helpfulness provision, as well as a new provision allowing access to competency-related records when a new petition has been filed and competency is at issue.

Implementation of expanded pre-petition diversion sealing

Rule 5.850 amendments

Because the juvenile court is authorized to review a determination by the probation department that a diversion program has been satisfactorily completed, the council adopted rule 5.850 of the California Rules of Court to implement section 786.5. That rule also specifies the procedures for the probation department to follow if section 654 diversion programs are satisfactorily completed. Because AB 2425 has expanded and revised those requirements, the proposal would amend that rule to reflect the current requirements on timing and who must be notified about the obligation to seal. In addition, the rule has been amended to make it gender neutral, and to use “youth” instead of “child” consistent with the new definition in rule 5.502.

Revisions to existing form, and new optional form to acknowledge sealing of records

To assist probation departments in carrying out the expanded sealing requirements added to section 786.5, the proposal includes modifications to the existing Probation Department Notice on Sealing of Records After Diversion Program (form JV-597) to provide for the sealing of arrest records by law enforcement. It also includes a new optional Acknowledgment of Juvenile Diversion Record Sealed (form JV-589) for those agencies that must seal the diversion records to acknowledge that sealing has been completed so that the probation department can comply with its new duty to confirm that task and notify the subject of the records.

Alternatives Considered

The committee considered not revising the existing informational forms to include the new access provisions but was concerned that not revising them would make them legally inaccurate. The committee considered not proposing a new form for use by probation agencies to receive acknowledgment that diversion records have been sealed, but determined that without such an optional form, the existing optional forms would be incomplete.

Fiscal and Operational Impacts

Printing costs may be incurred by courts to provide the revised mandatory information forms. In addition, because the information forms will need to be made available in other languages, there will be costs to translate the revised forms. All of these impacts are a result of legislative changes and are necessary to make the forms legally accurate. The approval of the optional forms should make it easier for probation departments and law enforcement agencies to comply with their statutory duties.

Request for Specific Comments

In addition to comments on the proposal as a whole, the advisory committee is interested in comments on the following:

- Does the proposal appropriately address the stated purpose?
- Is the new optional probation form (form JV-589) useful to probation departments?
- Will the new optional law enforcement forms (forms JV-581 and JV-582) assist law enforcement in implementing section 827.95?

The advisory committee also seeks comments from courts on the following cost and implementation matters:

- Would the proposal provide cost savings? If so, please quantify.
- What would the implementation requirements be for courts—for example, training staff (please identify position and expected hours of training), revising processes and procedures (please describe), changing docket codes in case management systems, or modifying case management systems?
- Would 3 months from Judicial Council approval of this proposal until its effective date provide sufficient time for implementation?
- How well would this proposal work in courts of different sizes?

If you were arrested or subject to a court proceeding or had contact with the juvenile justice system when you were under 18, there may be records kept by courts, police, schools, or other public agencies about what you did. If the court (makes them private) sealed, it could be easier for you to:

- Find a job.
- Get a driver's license.
- Get a loan.
- Rent an apartment.
- Go to college.

If the court sealed your records when probation was terminated, you do not need to ask for them to be sealed.

There are now three ways that records may be sealed in California. As of January 1, 2015, courts are required to seal records in certain cases when the court finds that probation (formal or informal) is satisfactorily completed or if your case was otherwise dismissed after the petition was filed. If the court sealed all of your records at the end of your case, you should have received a copy of the sealing order, and you do not need to ask the court to seal the records in that sealing order.

For more information about when the court seals your records at the completion of probation, see Sealing of Records for Satisfactory Completion of Probation (form JV-596-INFO).

If probation sealed your diversion records for satisfactory completion, you may wish to ask the court to seal any remaining records of your behavior.

As of January 1, 2018, if you participate in a diversion program or other supervision program instead of going to court, and the probation department determines that you satisfactorily completed that program, the probation department will seal your probation department records and the records for any program you were required to complete. If the probation department determines that you did not satisfactorily complete the program, it will not seal those records, but will give you a form to tell you why and a form that you can use to tell the court why you think you did satisfactorily complete the program. If the court agrees with you, it will order your probation and program records sealed. Because probation did not seal any arrest records at this time, you may want to ask the court to seal any other records relating to this conduct when you are eligible to ask for record sealing as explained on this form.

If you have more than one juvenile case or contact and/or are unsure if your records were sealed by the court, ask your attorney or probation officer or the juvenile court clerk in the county where you had a case or contact.

Who qualifies to ask the court to seal their juvenile records?

If the court has not already sealed your records, you can ask the court to make that order if:

- You are at least 18 or it has been at least five years since your case was closed; and
- You have been rehabilitated to the satisfaction of the court.

What if I owe restitution or fines?

The court may seal your records even if you have not paid your full restitution order to the victim.

The court will not consider outstanding fines and court-ordered fees when deciding whether to seal your records, but you are still required to pay the restitution, fines, and fees, and your records can be looked at to enforce those orders.

Who does not qualify to have their records sealed?

- You do not qualify to have your records sealed if you were convicted as an adult of an offense involving moral turpitude, such as:
 - A sex or serious drug crime;
 - Murder or other violent crime; or
 - Forgery, welfare fraud, or other crime of dishonesty.
- You do not qualify to have your records sealed if, when you were 14 or older, the court found that you committed a sex offense listed in Welfare and Institutions Code section 707(b) for which you must register under Penal Code section 290.008 because you were paroled from the Department of Justice facilities.

If you are unsure if you qualify, ask your attorney.

Who can see my sealed records?

- The Department of Motor Vehicles can see your vehicle and traffic records and share them with insurance companies.
- The court may see your records if you are a witness or involved in a defamation case.
- If you apply for benefits as a nonminor dependent, the court may see your records.

- A prosecuting attorney may see your records that were sealed for an offense listed under Welfare and Institutions Code section 707(b) in a later proceeding for the reasons listed in section 781(d).
- If your sealed record was for a section 707(b) offense when you were 14 or older, the prosecutor, probation, and the court may unseal your records if you are charged with a later felony.
- If a judge or prosecutor needs to determine if a victim of certain offenses was helpful in investigation or prosecution of the offense when the victim is seeking certification in connection with an immigration matter.
- If a prosecutor thinks something in your record would be helpful to the defense of someone who is charged with a crime in another case, the prosecutor can ask the court to provide that information.
- If you want to see your records or allow someone else to see them, you can ask the court to unseal them.

Can employers see my records if they are not sealed?

Juvenile records are not allowed to be disclosed to most employers, and employers are not allowed to ask about or consider your juvenile history in most cases. There are exceptions to this rule if you are applying to be a peace officer or to work in health settings. Also, federal employers may still have access to your juvenile history. You should seek legal advice if you have questions about what an employer can ask about you.

How do I ask to have my records sealed?

- ① You must fill out a court form. Form JV-595, Request to Seal Juvenile Records, at www.courts.ca.gov/forms.htm, can be used, or your court may have a local form.
- ② When you file your petition, the probation department will compile a list of every law enforcement agency, entity, or person the probation department knows has a record of your case, as well as a list of any prior contacts with law enforcement or probation, and attach will attach it to your petition.
- ③ If you think there are agencies that might have records on you that were never sent to probation, you need to name those agencies, or the court will not know to seal those records.

If you are not sure what contacts you might have had with law enforcement, you can get your criminal history record from the Department of Justice. See <http://oag.ca.gov/fingerprints/security> for more information.

- ④ Take your completed form to the probation department where you were on probation. (If you were not on probation, take your form to any county probation office where you have a juvenile record.) Note: A small number of counties require you to take your form to the court. More information on each county's specific requirements is available at www.courts.ca.gov/28120.htm.
- ⑤ Probation will review your form and submit it to the court within 90 days, or 180 days if you have records in two or more counties.
- ⑥ The court will review your petition. The court may decide right away to seal your juvenile records, or the court may order a hearing. If there is a hearing, you will receive a notice in the mail with the date, time, and location of the hearing. If the notice says your hearing is "unopposed" (meaning there is no disagreement with your request), you may choose not to go.
- ⑦ If you qualify to have your juvenile records sealed, the court will make an order to seal the eligible records listed on your petition. Important! The court can seal only records it knows about. Make sure you list all records from all counties where you have any records. The court will tell you if it does not seal records from another court that were listed on your petition, and you will need to file a petition in that county to seal those records.
- ⑧ If the court grants your request, it will order each agency, entity, or person on your list to seal your records. The court will also order the records destroyed by a certain date. If the sealed records are for a section 707(b) offense committed when you were 14 or older, the court will not order those records destroyed.
- ⑨ The court will provide you with a copy of its order. Be sure to keep it in a safe place.

What about sex offender registration?(Penal Code, § 290)

If the court seals a record that required you to register as a sex offender, the order will say you do not have to continue to register.

If my records are sealed, do I have to report the offenses in the sealed records on job, school, or other applications?

No. Once your records are sealed, the law treats those offenses as if they did not occur and you do not need to report them. However, the military and some federal agencies may not recognize sealing of records and may be aware of your juvenile justice history, even if your records are sealed. If you want to enlist in the military or apply for a job requiring you to provide information about your juvenile records, seek legal advice about this issue.

Questions

If you are not sure if you qualify to seal your records or if you have other questions, talk to a lawyer. The court is not allowed to give you legal advice. More information about sealing your records can be found at www.courts.ca.gov/28120.htm.

In many cases, the court will seal your juvenile records if you satisfactorily complete probation (formal or informal supervision).

If your case is terminated by the juvenile court after January 1, 2015, because you satisfactorily completed your probation (formal or informal), or if your case was otherwise dismissed after the petition was filed, in many cases the court will have dismissed the petition(s) and sealed your records. If the court sealed your records for this reason, you should have received a copy of the sealing order with this form.

If the court finds you have not satisfactorily completed your probation, it will not dismiss your case and will not seal your records at termination. If you want to have your records sealed in this situation, you will need to ask the court to seal your records at a later date (*see How to Ask the Court to Seal Your Records (form JV-595-INFO)), for information about asking the court to seal your records).

The court will not seal your records at the end of your case if you were found to have committed an offense listed in Welfare and Institutions Code section 707(b) (a violent offense such as murder, rape, or kidnapping, and some offenses involving drugs or weapons) when you were 14 or older unless it was dismissed or reduced to a misdemeanor or a lesser offense not listed in 707(b). Unless you were found to have committed one or more of certain sex offenses, you can ask the court to seal your records at age 18 (or age 21 if you were committed to the Division of Juvenile Justice Facilities).

How will the court decide if probation is satisfactorily completed?

If you have done what you were ordered to do while on probation and have not been found to have committed any further crimes (felonies or misdemeanor crimes involving moral turpitude, such as a sex crime or a crime involving dishonesty), the court will find that your probation was satisfactorily completed even if you still owe restitution, court ordered fees, and fines, BUT...

Restitution and court fines must still be paid.

Even if your records are sealed, you must still pay your restitution and court-ordered fines. Your sealed records can be looked at to enforce those orders.

Which records will be sealed?

The court will order your court, probation, Department of Justice, and law enforcement agency records sealed for the case the court is closing, and earlier cases, if the court determines you are eligible. If you or your attorney ask the court, it can also seal records of other agencies (such as the District Attorney's office) if it finds that doing so would help you to be rehabilitated.

If you have more than one juvenile case and are unsure which records were sealed, ask your attorney or probation officer.

Who can see my sealed records?

- If your records were sealed by the court at termination, the prosecutor and others can look at your record to determine if you are eligible to participate in a deferred entry of judgment or informal supervision program.
- If you apply for benefits as a nonminor dependent, the court may see your records.
- If a new petition is filed against you for a felony offense, probation can look at what programs you were in but cannot use that information to keep you in juvenile hall or to punish you.
- If the juvenile court finds you have committed a felony, your sealed records can be viewed to decide what disposition (sentence) the court should order.
- If you are arrested for a new offense and the prosecuting attorney asks the court to transfer you to adult court, your record can be reviewed to decide if transfer is appropriate.
- If you are in foster care, the child welfare agency can look at your records to determine where you should live and what services you need.
- If your case was dismissed before you became a ward, the prosecutor can look at your records for six months after the dismissal in order to refile the dismissed petition based on new information or evidence.
- If you are not allowed to have a gun because of your offense, the Department of Justice can look at your records to make sure you do not buy or own a gun.
- If a prosecutor thinks something in your record would be helpful to someone who is charged with a crime in another case, the prosecutor can ask the court to provide that information. If this request is made, the court will let you know. You and your attorney may object.

- If a new petition is filed against you and the issue of your competency to participate in your new case is raised, the probation department, prosecutor, your attorney, and the court can look at your prior competency-related records to assess your current ability to understand and participate in the juvenile court proceedings.
- If a judge or prosecutor needs to determine if a victim of certain offenses was helpful in the investigation or prosecution of the offense when the victim is seeking certification in connection with an immigration matter.
- If you want to see your records or allow someone else to see them, you can ask the court to unseal them.

NOTE: Even if someone looks at your records in one of these situations, your records will stay sealed and you do not need to ask the court to seal them again.

Do I have to report the offenses in the sealed records on job, school, or other applications?

No. Once your records are sealed, the law treats those offenses as if they did not occur and you do not need to report them. However, the military and some federal agencies may not recognize sealing of records and may be aware of your juvenile justice history, even if your records are sealed. If you want to enlist in the military or apply for a job that asks you to provide information about your juvenile records, seek legal advice about this issue.

Can employers see my records if they are not sealed?

Juvenile records are not allowed to be disclosed to most employers, and employers are not allowed to ask about or consider your juvenile history in most cases. There are exceptions to this rule if you are applying to be a peace officer or to work in health settings. Also, federal employers may still have access to your juvenile history. You should seek legal advice if you have questions about what an employer can ask.
